Here's Greater Boston at Your Fingertips

STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS
MAR 20 1961
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

A quick summary of the growing economy of one of the country's largest metropolitan areas prepared by the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce

The Greater Boston area is rich in history, but it is even richer in potential. Throughout its 300 years of development, Boston has displayed marked qualities of resourcefulness in meeting problems and capitalizing on opportunities.

Greater Boston is the home of the first shipbuilding industry, the first iron works, the first American newspaper, the first medical society, the first savings bank, and the first telephone, among many other firsts.

Growth has marked the long history of Greater Boston. From household industry to factories to secondary and tertiary industries to research and development for a new age. Here are some economic factors which equip Boston unusually well for the future.

FINANCIAL

- Commercial Banks..... $3.7 billion assets
- Life Insurance Companies.. $6.0 billion assets
- Savings Institutions.....$3.5 billion assets
- Trust Departments..... $5.4 billion assets
- Investment Companies..... $2.5 billion assets

★ The $2 billion assets in our financial institutions are over 5.2% of the national total while this area has only 2% of the country's population.

★ Boston is the home of the Investment Trust. Nearly 35% of investment trust assets are in Boston companies.

★ Boston provides a special service to new industry with its privately financed and operated Massachusetts Business Development Corporation. Medium and long term funds are available to worthy concerns to stimulate industrial growth.

★ Boston Banks boast the 2nd largest foreign trade service in the country.

LOCATIONS FOR NEW INDUSTRY

★ Industrial districts are the new mode in industry location thinking. The Greater Boston Area boasts some of the country's newest ideas as developed through the cooperation of the engineering, marketing, city planning and economic research that has been going on in the area for the past few years.

★ Seven areas are already in operation with six more due in 1956 and six others in planning stages. Each of these is geared to industry's needs with zoning, grading, roads, railroad siding, sewers, utilities already taken care of.

★ There are three large shopping center developments in operation with six new ones in the development stage.

★ In the City of Boston itself there are 149 acres of land in 6 parcels zoned and ready for industry and near the new expressways, utilities and city services. An additional 133 acres in several parcels that can be developed are near water or rail facilities in addition to street transportation.

★ In the recent re-zoning study on the City of Boston, nearly 300 acres were added to industrial zones. Some of this acreage is currently vacant; some requires demolition prior to development.

★ Greater Boston boasts some extra services. In several of the industrial centers engineering and planning services for clients are readily available.

OUR INDUSTRIAL ECONOMY

★ Greater Boston has for many years been known for its hundreds of small manufacturing plants, its skilled workers and its industrial services.

★ Since 1939 the number of manufacturing plants in the area has increased over 23%. This is quite significant for an area which has been in the "manufacturing business" for over 200 years.

★ In the same period, value added by manufacture increased 2¼ times.

★ Within the past 4 years nearly 100 industrial plants have located in the area. Modern factory and business establishments are finding the new 80-mile Route 128 "Magic Semicircle" a practicable and profitable location.

★ In the Electrical Machinery Industry growth since 1947, the Greater Boston area has led the nation by a marked doubling of employment and a 61% increase in the number of plants.

★ The Electrical Machinery Industry, by recent study, spent nearly 38% more per employee in this area than in the nation as a whole. What better evidence that industries here are providing their workers with modern tools and equipment for the kind of high value product produced here?

SALES MARKET

★ 3 million people within a 30 mile radius of Boston — 25% of the population of all New England and 55% of the Massachusetts population.

★ Per capita income among the highest in the nation. By recent study (1953) over 47% of the families have weekly incomes of $80 and more.

★ Although Boston itself plays a significant role in trade habits, there are:

13 major trading areas in the greater market

29 distinct shopping centers for 138 communities

★ To approach this big market there are 154 daily, weekly, and Sunday media with all the news services and the best on-the-spot advertising advice.

★ The 18 commercial radio stations provide a major service to both industry and trade.

★ Boston is the home of the world famous Conference on Distribution, an annual affair which attracts businessmen from all over the world.

★ For the industrialist, rail and truck service in the Greater Boston area enables delivery to 18 major cities in eastern United States and Canada within 3 days. Carload lots are delivered to 11 major cities within 2 days.

RAIL TRANSPORTATION

★ All of the United States is serviced by rail from Boston through the various Hudson River and Canadian gateways.

★ The three Boston Terminals are connected to facilitate interline movements.

★ Our Railroads are Industrial Development minded. All three systems have large active Industrial Departments to serve new industry location.

★ "Piggy back" door-to-door service for truck trailers is available in Boston to many of the larger cities east of the Mississippi River.

★ Our railroads have on order some 23,000 new freight cars and 100 diesel locomotives. This is indicative of their intention to keep pace with the expanding needs of industry.

★ Services of various freight forwarders are available to principal large cities throughout the United States.

★ Passenger services, commuter-intra and interstate, are frequent and fast. Rapid hourly 4½ to 5 hour New York runs are scheduled.

★ The new Route 128 station on Boston's circumferential highway gives suburbanites quick access to passenger service, equaled by few other cities in the country.

★ For the Industrialist, service of the Greater Boston railroads enables delivery to 18 major cities in eastern United States and Canada within 3 days. Car lots are delivered to 11 major cities within 2 days.

MOTOR TRANSPORTATION

★ Our constantly growing new highway system enables fast truck service to all parts of New England and every part of the United States.

★ The new turnpikes now under construction are intended to further accelerate movement of raw materials and finished products of industry.

★ Boston is the major terminal for several fleets of common and contract carriers who offer every conceivable trucking service.

★ The New England Motor Rate Bureau, located in Boston, offers many transportation information services for all shippers in the area.

★ The Boston Chamber of Commerce maintains a transportation advisory staff for direct assistance to all business and industry.

★ The state is noted for its excellent safety record, a fact of major significance in view of the traffic density of the area.

★ Many of our truck lines are specialists in specific types of cargo, all of which are designed for speed and cost savings to the shipper.

★ 28 major cities east of the Mississippi in the United States and Canada can be reached by truck shipments within three days. For example, by the second morning, truck freight is delivered to Pittsburgh, Chicago, Buffalo, Quebec; three days to New Orleans, Birmingham, Detroit, Miami.

AIR TRANSPORTATION

★ Boston has built for the present and the future. The facilities of Boston's Logan International Airport are extensive and outstanding. Its unequalled strategic location on Boston's waterfront is only a few minutes away from the business districts of Greater Boston either by Rapid Transit, limousine, or taxi.

★ The area is serviced by eight domestic carriers. Five carriers provide frequent international flights to all parts of the world.

★ Air freight service is provided by all commercial air lines and three all cargo air carriers. Service is available to and from all principal points in the United States and abroad.

★ Boston has a Modern Port designed for all-weather services and the finest of on-the-ground facilities.

★ For the company and private plane, Bedford, Logan, Norwood and Revere airports are available at moderate landing fees.

TAXES

★ Here are some of the salient facts on taxes in the Greater Boston Area which are applicable to business and industry. They are presented in condensed form for the simple reason that particular situations cannot be prejudged and that comparisons among several areas must be made for specific business operations.

★ There are certain general facts that can be stated about Massachusetts taxes.

— Corporation net income from business in Massachusetts is taxed at an effective rate of 6.765%.

— Capital employed in Massachusetts by corporations is subject to corporate exceess tax of an effective rate of $6.15 per $1000. In computing capital, property taxed locally is excluded as follows:

Manufacturing corporations — real estate and motor vehicles.
Non-manufacturing corporations — real estate, machinery, and motor vehicles.

— Individuals are taxed at 3.07% on business income and 7.38% on interest, dividends, and gains from sales of intangible property.

— Partnerships are taxed at the same rates as individuals.

— Real and personal property including property used in business, except machinery used in manufacturing and inventories of corporations, are taxed locally in varying amounts depending on valuations and tax rates in each community.

★ There is no general sales tax.

★ In all cases taxes should be weighed against governmental services received. Too often it is misleading to rest a decision about location on a rule-of-thumb approach to tax burdens. Other factors such as manpower supply, markets, schools and transportation costs should be considered carefully before reaching your conclusion.

INTRODUCTION
AND
GENERAL INDEX

R. L. POLK & CO., publishers of more than 800 city, county, state and national Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1956 edition of the Boston City Directory in two volumes.

Confidence in the growth of Boston's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Boston to the world.

The enviable position occupied by R. L. POLK & CO.'S Directories in the estimation of the public throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty co-operation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Boston Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Four Major Departments

The four major departments are arranged in the following order:—

THE BANKING REFERENCE DEPARTMENT and THE BUYERS' GUIDE, printed on tinted paper, contains the advertisements of leading banking, manufacturing, business and professional interests of Boston. The advertisements are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and merits a survey by all buyers eager to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. In a great commercial and industrial center like Boston, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available is obvious. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the many reference users of this City Directory service.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents and business and professional concerns in two volumes, 1, A-K; Volume 2, L-Z, on white paper. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of Boston, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the city.

THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, on pink paper in two volumes, 1, A-K; Volume 2, L-Z. In this section the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of tenant-owned homes and the designation of homes and places of business having telephones.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY in Volume 2, on yellow paper. This department lists the names of all business and professional concerns in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluble and indispensable catalog of the numerous interests of the community. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller. As such it plays an important part in the daily activities of the commercial and professional world. More buyers and sellers meets through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium.

Municipal Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Boston.

The Boston Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Boston City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in their offices at 179 Lincoln Street, for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 500 Directory Libraries installed in the chief cities of the U. S. and Canada by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, under whose supervision the system is operated.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

BOSTON . . . Historical

State House, Beacon St.

Boston, the oldest large city in the United States, was founded in 1630 by a chartered company of English colonists under the governorship of John Winthrop. Named Shawmut by its Indian inhabitants and Trimontaine by the early colonists, it received its present name on September 17, 1630, after the town in Lincolnshire, England, from which many of the company had come. Two years later it was established as the capital of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and is today capital of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Although religious freedom was one of the principles on which the early English colonies were founded, the "Puritan" population of Boston soon became intolerant of divergent religious views. Some of the offenders were exiled, Anne Hutchinson among them and others, like Roger Williams who founded Rhode Island, emigrated voluntarily. Between 1648 and 1688 four women were executed as witches and four Quakers, who returned in defiance of their exile, were hanged.

For many years Boston was the largest town in the colonies and it has always occupied a position of leadership. It was the scene of the first American printing office and the first regular newspaper, the BOSTON NEWS LETTER, was published in Boston in 1704. America's first public school which is still in existence, the Public Latin School, was started in 1635. Harvard College, located across the Charles River in Cambridge, the country's oldest institution of higher learning, was founded in the following year.

Boston, as the natural center of the colonies that later came to be known as New England, was continuously in the forefront in the long dispute with the mother country that culminated in the American Revolution. Because of the lack of resources in New England — the soil and the climate were not suitable for the raising of the colonial staples, tobacco or cotton or sugar — this section of the New World soon became England's step-child and came to learn that it had to fend for itself. The various trade and tax laws, imposed by Britain, worked a particular hardship on New England's seaport towns. Therefore, these could subsist only through their shipping among the other colonies and between the old and the new worlds. As a result Boston earned the name of hotbed of the Revolution, with the Stamp Act and Revenue Act riots, the Boston Massacre, The Boston Tea Party and the Boston Port Bill, outward evidence of the city's right to the title. America still respects the names of the many rugged patriots who refused to accept England's punitive measures in silence, such men as Samuel Adams, John Hancock, Paul Revere, William Dawes and James Otis, among a long list.

New England capitalized on the opportunities offered by the industrial revolution around 1800. Textile mills sprang into being in towns all over New England where water power was available, and not long after, the shoe industry followed suit. Boston became the natural center for these industries both as a market for their finished products and as the port of entry for their raw materials, cotton, wool, silk and leather.

Boston — well called "the Birthplace of the American Nation" — possesses a wealth of historic places and traditions which are the heritage of all America.

A partial list of historic places to see in and around Boston includes: Samuel Adams House, "Ye Old Blake House", Boston Common, the site of the "Boston Tea Party", Bunker Hill Monument, U. S. Frigate "Constitution", Copp's Hill Burying Ground, Faneuil Hall, First Church in Boston, Franklin's Birthplace, Granary Burying Ground, King's Chapel, Liberty Tree, Old North Church (Christ Church), Old State House, Wendell Phillips House, First Post Office in American Colonies, Province House, Paul Revere House, Old South Meeting House, Old West Church, Spring Lane, the Adams Houses, Arnold's Tavern, Lowell's House, Longfellow's Home, Old Powder House, Plymouth, Minute Man Statue, The Revolutionary Monument, Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, and Longfellow's Wayside Inn.

BOSTON'S WATER SUPPLY

Boston is blessed with one of the purest and most plentiful water supplies in the world. Even during a dry year 90% of our stored water is still unused in the late fall of the year.

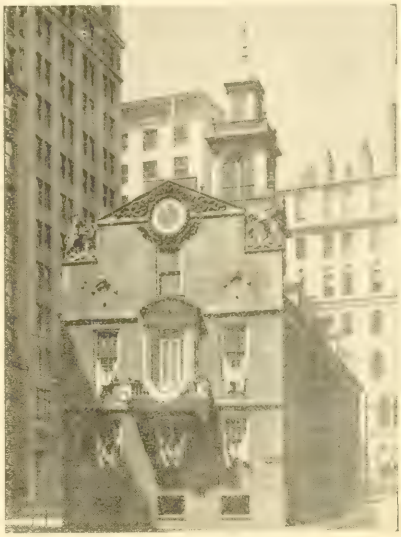
Within Metropolitan Boston, twenty-four communities and Boston receive their water from the Metropolitan District Commission Water District. Three other communities are partially supplied.

The Metropolitan District Commission is an agency of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts providing park sewerage and water service with its own police force to 45 cities and towns in Metropolitan Boston—not all communities have all three services. The Water District contains 14 distribution reservoirs with capacities varying from 0.33 to 1,791.7 million gallons; and 3 storage reservoirs with 477 billion gallons capacity impounding the run-off from 268.69 square miles of water shed.

Quabbin Reservoir, the largest, completed in 1946, was constructed on the sites of four townships requiring relocation of 36 miles of state highways, discontinuance of 16 miles of railroad and removal of all homes and buildings.

Other statistics:

Water surface—36.6 square miles



Total land and water area inside the real estate taking line—117 square miles

Length of reservoir—18 miles

Shoreline—118 miles

Shoreline including 110 islands—177 miles

The water is extremely soft and can be used for any home or industrial purpose without further treatment. Purity of the water is evident from the fact that only 6.3 pounds of chlorine and 1.1 pounds of ammonia per million gallons is added and only .15 parts per million gallons of residual chlorine gas are found in the mains and this is almost completely dissipated on reaching the consumer.

Commerce and Industry

Federal Street—Looking South

The Boston industrial area is one of five leading manufacturing centers of the nation, notable particularly for the diversity of both its products and the skills of its working forces, and also for the high degree of concentration in its manufacturing establishments.

The 5,050 manufacturing plants of the Boston area employ approximately 267,000 production workers who receive wages at the rate of over $88,142,000 annually.

Boston was the birthplace of American industry, and it has today the largest number of manufacturing plants in proportion to size of any industrial area but one. Furthermore, approximately 100 new manufacturing companies are established in the Metropolitan Boston district annually. Although on an average the plants in this area are small, a considerable number are of substantial size and their products are internationally known.

About 60.1 per cents of the manufacturing establishments of Massachusetts are located in the Boston area; they employ more than half of the Commonwealth's industrial wage-earners; pay well over half the wage bill and turn out a corresponding volume of the state's industrial production.

A remarkably wide diversity of manufactured goods characterizes the Boston industrial output. Of all industrial products listed by the United States Census Bureau, more than two-thirds are manufactured in the Boston area. This diversity of products is more notable because it is spread largely among consumer goods and does not embrace any considerable volume of heavier products. This variety in Boston's industrial output is further emphasized by the fact that the employment of no single industry group represents more than 13 per cent of the area's total employment.

Woolen and worsted goods rank first in value of output in the Boston area. Fourteen other major classifications are listed in the Federal Census as producing more than 25 million dollars worth of merchandise a year — food products, the rapidly expanding apparel industries, leather tanning, footwear, meat packing, boot and shoe cut stock and findings, newspaper publishing, rubber products, confectionery, electrical and other machinery, transportation equipment, iron and steel products, chemicals and allied products and petroleum and coal products.

Electrical and electronic equipment which doubled in employment in the last five years, advanced products of chemical and related industries, up-to-date plastics and a fast-growing leadership in style and fashion merchandise are other characteristics of Boston's highly diversified manufacturing enterprises.

Although it is listed officially as a separate industrial area, the Boston district is actually the easterly anchor of the largest and most intensively developed manufacturing region of the country — an unbroken industrial belt embracing virtually all of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, lower New York and northern New Jersey. There is no other industrial area of such magnitude and unity in the world.

The City of Boston itself, with nearly a billion-dollar annual production volume and 67,000 production workers wage-earners in 2,150 manufacturing establishments, with an annual payroll of $212,374,250, is by far the largest but not by any means the sole important industrial unit in the area.

The leading industrial cities outside Boston, each with a record of 100 million dollars or more in value of manufactured goods, are Lynn, Cambridge, Lawrence, Quincy, Watertown, Haverhill, Waltham, Framingham, Lowell, Somerville and Everett. Other cities which have produced 50 million dollars worth of merchandise or more include Brockton, Peabody, Norwood, Walpole, Chelsea, Salem and Malden, with Newton close to that figure.

"Boston quality" is associated the world over with the output of Boston factories. Expert craftsmanship, an unexcelled record for labor-management cooperation, proven stability of operation and resistance to economic changes—these are implicit in Boston-made merchandise. In addition, abundant power, light, fuel and transportation facilities and the nation's largest water supply in the Quabbin reservoir, provide unfailing assurance of adequate service and supplies for industry.

Modern methods and modern tools make Boston peculiarly adaptable for the production of modern merchandise. "No single area of the country is so renowned for toolmaking and precision manufacturing", describes, in the words of a representative of the nation's largest manufacturer, the key position in the country's industry occupied by the multi-skilled workmen and the factories of Boston and New England.

In another key field, too, the Boston area is not only currently pre-eminent, but is gaining by leaps and bounds over the rest of industrial America. This is the field of modern industrial and technical research, wherein the educational and scientific institutions and laboratories which abound here are leading the way toward continued development, improvement and cost-saving in the nation's industrial products and techniques.

As a reservoir and fountain-head of technical and engineering knowledge, this region offers unrivalled attractions to industries, particularly those involving specialized methods and the desirability of locating near high-grade research facilities. Many companies have decided to choose a location here chiefly because of proximity to the superior facilities and collateral services. The latest acknowledgement of the Boston area's advantages in this respect comes from the United States military services, which are erecting their forty-three million dollar major research laboratory in nearby Bedford. In Natick, they have completed a $12,000,000 facility to house the various Quartermaster research activities which is of special advantage to numerous industries which furnish supplies to the Army, such as plastics, rubber goods, leather, shoes, clothing and textiles, among others.

The vigor and resilience of this area's industrial activity was emphasized strikingly in its reconversion experience following World War II. Studies of the Federal Security Agency revealed that Massachusetts gained a greater percentage of employed wage earners than any other of the large industrial states after the war and well into the post-war years. Compilations reported by the State Planning Board nearly a year after the war showed that the employment of wage earners had increased in four-fifths of the State's leading industries ranging from 14 per cent in rubber goods to 27 per cent in textile machinery.

Rich Wholesale Market

Boston is the heart of one of our largest and most highly concentrated merchandise distribution centers.

Boston's dominant position as the marketing center of New England is indicated by the fact that sales in this city alone represent 67 per cent of all wholesale sales in Massachusetts and 45 per cent of all sales in the New England states.

Other cities within the Boston district distribute a substantial volume of merchandise at wholesale.

Boston, which has always been the largest wool market in the United States, became the wool center of the world as a result of the war, and now handles two-thirds of the total trade volume in this commodity. Prior to the war, London was the world's leading wool market.

Boston is one of the leaders in the sale of shoes and other footwear and also of fish and sea foods; is the sixth largest furniture market and one of the country's leading food distributors.

Boston is also first in sale of leather and shoe findings, is the first northern cotton market, has one of the largest sales volumes in coal and coke and is well to the fore in volume of meats and provisions, hides, skins, raw furs, women's and children's clothing, yarns, cotton piece goods, men's and boy's clothing, and in numerous other lines.

In many of the characteristics that make great markets, Boston is outstanding in proportion to its population. It has the largest volume of bank deposits, has one of the largest per capita family incomes, and enjoys one of the highest standards of living in the nation. Not alone is this true of the highly concentrated area in or near Boston. The small towns and rural areas of Massachusetts also have, according to a survey conducted by the authoritative Sales Management magazine, the highest per capita effective buying income of similar groups in any state. Possession of this high purchasing power is also true of the small towns and rural areas of New England as a whole.

The excellent buying power of Boston families is shown by favorable comparison of the statistics published in Sales Management for the 10 leading cities of the United States. Taking the figures for the counties which embrace these cities, it is found that Boston has a per family effective buying income of $5,812, and that family income in the other nine leading cities is: New York, $6,134; Chicago, $6,776; Philadelphia, $5,996; Detroit, $6,901; Los Angeles, $5,501; Cleveland, $7,053; Baltimore, $5,413; St. Louis, $6,076 and Pittsburgh, $6,119.

The unsurpassed buying capacity of New England invites careful study on the part of manufacturers and distributors who are seeking highly absorptive and readily accessible market areas.

First In Retail Buying Power

The Boston district is one of America's foremost retail distributing centers—close to the top in family buying power, a leader in total sales volume, and one of the first style centers of the nation.

Total retail sales in Boston amount to an estimated $1,407,987,000 in 1955, and in the five counties represented in Metropolitan Boston the total sales volume is over $3,000 million. This nearby five-county area has approximately one-fourth of the total retail business of Massachusetts.

The City of Boston has the largest volume of sales at retail in the nation in proportion to its size, according to the latest available United States census statistics. This is currently confirmed in a separate analysis of retail business made by Sales Management magazine, which shows that the Boston district has the second highest per capita sales at retail among all the largest places in the country.

As compared with Boston's per capita buying income of $1,676, the corresponding figure for the United States is $1,545.

Similarly, this national study shows that the per family income or purchasing ability in the Boston area is $5,812—higher than that of virtually all other large communities in the country.

The records likewise show that the effective purchasing power of the smaller communities near Boston and elsewhere in Massachusetts is higher than that of similar places in any other state.

Due to the attractions of this city as a shopping center for most of New England, Boston has more high-grade department and specialty stores than any other American city except New York.

Department store sales have been increased by the establishment of beautiful ultra modern branch shops in strategically selected suburban areas, easily accessible to residential shoppers and lavishly equipped with spacious parking areas.

In other respects also, the retail business of Boston and surrounding area is notable. Boston is one of the great food centers. It ranks near the top in sales of furs, jewelry, apparel, drug store and general merchandise.

Many of the other cities in the Metropolitan district do a large volume of retail business despite their proximity to downtown Boston. Cambridge has a retail volume estimated at over $131,360,000 annually; and the retail business of the other larger cities is estimated as follows: Lynn, $120,817,000; Quincy, $113,493,000; Brockton, $90,212,000; Somerville, $74,832,000; Brookline, $67,230,000; Newton, $63,913,000; Malden, $61,571,000; Waltham, $61,574,000 and Salem, $67,748,000.

Boston Fish Pier

BOSTON'S FISHING INDUSTRY

Surrounded by one of the most widely diversified manufacturing areas in the country, Boston continues to be one of the most important fishing centers in the country.

Possessing the world's largest fish freezing plant, located in the world's largest fish pier devoted exclusively to this commodity, Boston long has demonstrated true Yankee ingenuity in making the most of New England's principal natural resource.

When earlier Boston schooner fishermen turned from hook and line fishing to launching dories overside in order to increase the number of available hooks, the industry began to find new frontiers for marketing the product through salting. And when, about 40 years ago, the trawlers began to use huge cordage nets that scooped up thousands of fish without the use of bait, still more markets were opened up, and modern transportation made is possible to extend the marketing frontiers.

Fishing Boats Alongside Boston Fish Pier

Then Came Filleting

Filleting, a process that originated here, made possible even more widespread distribution of fresh fish. Filleting, now known the country over, consists of cutting or stripping the meaty sides, or fillets, of haddock, cod, pollock and other varieties after the fish has been cleaned and scaled. Originally, these fillets were wrapped in especially prepared vegetable parchment paper and packed in tin boxes, which in turn were packed in ice in a second container. This excellent development greatly extended the market for fresh fish, but other methods to serve new possibilities were sought. Laboratory experiments showed that certain species of fish could be frozen alive and later thawed to swim away, apparently unharmed, thus proving that freezing protein foods, if properly done, need not result in deterioration. From this beginning was developed a new frozen food industry that has spread to other commodities.

The flavor, food value and general excellence of fish taken from the cold waters of the Atlantic have long been recognized. With quick freezing of fillets, and even whole fish, the Boston fish market frontier was extended to inland cities where fish fresh from the sea had been a scarce luxury.

But getting their fish to market was only half the battle for Boston's fishermen. They faced also the problem of cultivating the nation's taste to enjoy more than just a limited variety of deep sea food. The "sacred cod" that hangs in the Massachusetts State House in Boston is a symbol of the great fishing industry that once was confined to marketing cod and herring. Other fish were either thrown overside or cut up for cod bait. For years, redfish or rosefish, was used merely as dressing in fish market windows because of its unusual color, and no one ever dreamed of eating it. Filleting, however, demonstrated that redfish was another tasty dish to grace the country's tables, and in less than 10 years the annual landings of this product jumped from a mere 3,000,000 to 160,000,000 pounds. Boston fish marketmen continued their efforts to develop new tastes in fish, until haddock, pollock and other varieties also attained a place with the leaders.

Boston Takes the Lead

Following the development of new products and better methods, the United States fishing industry grew from fifth rank among the nations before the first World War to third place at the beginning of the next great conflict. And it was Boston's progressiveness, in a large measure, that made that advancement possible. Not even the war made much of a dent in the Boston fishing industry, even though many of its best trawlers were taken over by the Navy and Coast Guard as auxiliary and patrol craft. The remaining vessels continued to sail out into submarine infested waters and bring home the catch. Designs were drawn and plans were laid in the midst of the conflict for laying new keels as soon as the shipyards could spare the space and time from building warships.

The annual total of fresh fish landed here continued to exceed 300,000,000 pounds, with almost as much being brought into other important New England fishing ports such as Gloucester, New Bedford, Providence and Portland.

Still Greater Possibilities

Yet Boston and New England have by no means fully developed the possibilities of the industry, as witness the discovery of an abundance of shrimp in nearby grounds, when that delicacy supposedly was the almost exclusive product of Gulf and South Atlantic regions.

And as the meat packing industry learned to develop uses for waste material, so, too, have the fishermen opened by a by-product industry of such items as cod and halibut liver oil and fish meal. This latter by-product has demonstrated its value as a source of vitamins, animal proteins iodine and other elements necessary to a balanced ration for poultry and livestock. Thousands of tons of fish meal are now available to farmers and livestock growers to aid them in their important industry.

And so New England and Boston continues to value fish as a great natural resource and plan for still greater development of the fishing industry, which means so much to this region and to the nation.

Museum of Fine Arts

BOSTON . . . A Cultural Center

Side by side with the forward march of commerce and industry in the Boston area has developed a rich variety of cultural pursuits in many of which this community holds first rank.

In music, drama and the fine arts, in education, religion, literature, science and statesmanship, Boston has contributed much to the development of America's unique civilization.

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts has had for nearly 70 years one of the nation's most comprehensive collections of art works, both modern and ancient. It possesses, for example, the finest collection of Oriental art outside of the Orient; the foremost Indian collection outside of India; and its collection of Egyptian pieces surpasses in quality any to be found outside of Cairo itself. Boston's Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, modelled after a Venetian palace, contains some outstanding sculpture and medieval stained glass, as well as superb painting ranging from the Italian Renaissance masters to the French Impressionists. Several of the museums at Harvard hold highest rank, such as the Fogg Art Museum and the Agassiz Museum which houses probaly the foremost collection of glass flowers in the world.

In both traditional and modern art expression, Boston holds a leading place. Many art clubs flourish in this area. Art magazines commonly list a larger number of exhibitions of paintings in Boston, virtually all without admission charge, than any city outside of New York. Boston's year-round art schools and the summer art colonies along the North Shore, Cape Cod and at many inland and mountain points are famous throughout the world.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, reputed to be the finest musical organization of its kind in the world is a successor to America's first Philharmonic Orchestra which was founded in Boston in 1810. The Boston Symphony's offspring, the famous Boston Pops Concerts, and the more recently established Esplanade Summer Concerts, rank with the finest musical presentations. The Handel and Haydn Society of Boston is one of the leading singing groups and the nation's oldest oratorio association.

No community has provided so rich and fertile an environment for spiritual growth. Here the Christian Science Church was born, the headquarters of the Unitarian and Universalist Churches and of the World Christian Endeavor were established, the first American Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations were founded and the widespread missionary activities of the Congregational Church were organized. Boston has given to the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States its presiding Bishop; the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston is the second largest in the country.

Boston has always been one of the leading supporters of the drama. Today this city has more first-class theatres, and presents more first performances of important theatrical offerings than any other city outside of New York. The little theatre movement and summer theatrical presentations throughout the Massachusetts countryside are not excelled anywhere.

In literature, the contribution of Massachusetts authors to the development of American culture are known to every reader.

One of the foremost schools of architecture in the country, that of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and others in and around Boston, are notable examples of architectural beauty. Boston is also famed among American cities for the exceptional number and character of its monuments and sculptures.

Education

This section is the home of the oldest American university. Here too, started the American public school system, and here was adopted the first legislation covering public education.

Public instruction in America began in Boston in 1635, 15 years after the advent of the Pilgrims. In that year the Boston Latin School, the first free public school, came into existence. This school antedates the foundation of Harvard, oldest American university, by one year. In 1644 the first school built and wholly supported by public taxation was established in Dedham, a suburb of Boston.

In 1642 the first school law was adopted, providing for education in the homes of Boston; and in 1647 was enacted the first general school law, the "mother of all school laws", and the foundation of many present school systems. Similarly, the first training school for teachers was established here.

It is a far step from these humble beginnings of organized educational effort to the vast system of American education in operation now. Today there are more than 700,000 students in the public schools of Massachusetts alone. In addition, 175,000 pupils are enrolled in private and parochial schools of pre-college grade, and in this respect, too, Massachusetts is one of the leaders.

Yet, despite this enormous growth, Boston and Massachusetts have maintained the spirit of the pioneer in education, and today with no superiors in educational standing, are as alert to opportunities for sound educational progress as they were at the beginning.

Every modern facility is provided for the proper training of youth, and educational methods are of a high standard of excellence. In keeping with the needs of a great industrial community, the public school systems of the Metropolitan district are equipped for training in vocational, trade, technical, commercial and mechanical activities; and fullest opportunities are available as well for development in cultural pursuits.

But it is not alone in free public instruction that this section excels. Here also are some of the world's foremost institutions of higher learning, including many of America's leading professional, technical, business, music and art schools.

Massachusetts has 75 institutions authorized to confer degrees, a larger number than any other state. More than half of these are in Metropolitan Boston. Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Tufts, Boston University, Brandeis University, Boston College, Jackson, Radcliffe, Wellesley, Northeastern, Simmons, Emmanuel, Regis, Emerson, Calvin Coolidge and Suffolk are among the institutions located in Metropolitan Boston; in addition there are literally hundreds of specialized schools such as the New England Conservatory of Music, The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Massachusetts School of Art, School of the Museum of Fine Arts, Forsythe Dental Clinic, Babson Institute, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, and a long list of other professional and training schools, making the city a notable leader in education.

Of outstanding interest is the world-famous Boston Public Library, the oldest free public library in the United States. With 2,000,000 books and a 5,000,000 annual circulation, 33 branch libraries plus a bookmobile and a special addition at the Boston City Hospital, the library holds an unsurpassed position culturally. The main building, opened in 1898, was designed by McKim, Mead and White, and is an excellent example of Italian Renaissance architecture. In October, 1953, the library celebrated its Centennial.

Boston has played a leading role in the nation's cultural growth. Referred to in another era as "the Athens of America" it certainly held undisputed claim to this title for many years. Here — and in neighboring Cambridge and Concord — lived and worked a colony of writers which gave to American letters a distinctive place in literature. Names like Emerson, Holmes, Longfellow, the Alcotts, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Aldrich, Lowell, Howells, James, Parkman and an imposing roster of others form a rich and substantial background for all American writing that has come after them.

BOSTON . . . Transportation

Through the veins of Boston's transportation system flows a steady stream of traffic to meet the great and diversified requirements of New England and the important centers of the world.

Boston has every modern facility for the expeditious handling of transportation by air, land and sea. It is one of the great domestic and international airports in the United States, its seaport is equal, or superior to any port on the eastern seaboard and its railroad service has been rated among the country's best. Three large railway systems, 108 foreign steamship services, 4 intercoastal steamship lines, 9 domestic airlines, 6 Transatlantic airlines and hundreds of highway transportation operators constitute the important and flexible transportation system of the Boston region.

Boston's Logan International Airport, located as it is within fifteen minutes distance from the center of the business district, is one of the truly great skyports of the world. This great asset of accessibility and its unique opportunity for expansion to meet any future needs makes Boston's airport a leader in the nation.

In operation are four paved runways, the longest over 10,000 feet. These runways are so designed that each may be extended later if it proves desirable. Furthermore, each runway can be duplicated later by a parallel runway 1500 feet removed. Sponsored originally in 1922 by the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, the airport has been built on filled land on the edge of Boston Harbor. After 20 years of operation as a municipal airport by the City of Boston, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts took over its operation in 1941.

Central Boston—Public Garden

The extensive enlargement operations recently completed at the airport cover an area of more than 2000 acres. The long paved runways are now available to handle the large transatlantic planes arriving and departing at Boston. Two of Boston's famous historic landmarks—Governors Island and Apple Island—have been leveled in this enlargement operation thus bowing to civic progress. Nine scheduled airlines, American, Eastern, Flying Tiger, Northeast, Slick, Trans-Canada, Trans-World, United and Mohawk are currently making well over 1,000 outbound domestic flights daily. Five transatlantic airlines, Air France, British Overseas, Pan American and Trans-World Airways, Italian Airlines L A I, provide more than 100 transatlantic outbound flights at Logan each week. The Boston-New York route has been termed the heaviest traveled air route in the United States. In addition to the flights to Europe, Asia, Africa and South America, there is service to virtually all of the major cities in the United States and some Canadian cities. Boston's aviation network provides service, through convenient connections, to all of the major markets in the world.

SEAPORT

Boston, with the finest natural harbor on the Atlantic Coast, equipped with modern piers, docks and warehouses, ranks high among the major ports of the world. It is practically land-locked and from the open sea to the inner harbor the distance is only 8 miles. As a shipping point to commercial centers, Boston has a marked advantage over other American seaports. It lies 200 miles nearer Europe than New York, 1000 miles nearer Panama and the west coast of South America than San Francisco, is nearer Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires than any other North Atlantic port. As compared with any other major Atlantic seaport, from 150 to 300 miles is saved by sailing from Boston to the ports of the United Kingdom, Continental Europe and the Near East. Passengers to or from Europe may save a day or more by embarking or debarking at Boston. Direct steamship service is maintained to and from the more important ports along the Pacific coast and, generally speaking, through transportation applies via these lines with various connecting rail and truck lines serving the port cities.

The Port of Boston has several excellent waterfront terminal facilities. In South Boston there is Castle Island Terminal, with 4200 feet of berthing space, and only one hour steaming time from the open sea; the huge Boston Army Base with its fully enclosed pier shed nearly one mile long; Commonwealth Pier, thirty-four years old and still described as the best passenger pier on the Atlantic Coast. Charlestown has the brand new Mystic Pier No 1, with 246,000 square feet of shed space and berthing space for three large vessels; the Boston and Maine piers Nos. 48, 49 and 50, which yearly handle thousands of tons of wood pulp and general cargo; and the new Hoosac Pier and grain elevator, with, among other features, the ability to load thirty thousand bushels of grain per hour into waiting vessels. In East Boston the Boston & Albany Railroad operates two efficient finger-type piers; and the Port of Boston Commission has completed modern terminal facility, such as we constructed at Mystic Pier No. 1, in Charlestown. A modernized grain elevator capable of delivering 30,000 bushels per hour is in service.

RAILROADS

Boston's railroad facilities provided by the New York, New Haven & Hartford, the Boston & Albany and the Boston & Maine Railroads, include numerous large piers on the waterfront, many freight houses strategically located with sidetrack facilities to handle thousands of cars at one time, team tracks for bulk freight deliveries permitting the placement of 3000 cars at a time for loading and unloading and large storage yards with capacity up to 13,000 cars to meet the demands of modern commerce and industry. Delivery yards are equipped with overhead electric cranes and special platforms to facilitate the loading and unloading of large units such as automobiles, trucks, machinery and other heavy freight.

Boston has many electric railways and buses. The Metropolitan Transit Authority and the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company connect virtually every part of Metropolitan Boston. Boston's underground system, comprising about 12 miles of subway, was the first municipal subway to be built in the United States, and the second in the world.

Located as we are in the extreme northeast section of the country with not an overabundance of raw materials, Boston and New England lean heavily upon their efficient railroad, seaport, highway and air services for the continuous import of raw materials and the export of finished products to keep the supply lines of this important area open for world commerce.

BOSTON . . . Convention City

Two hundred thousand conventioneers spending upwards of 25 million dollars annually comprises one of the more important segments of the income of Greater Boston. The agency which is responsible for convention solicitation as well as an extensive tourist promotion program for Boston is the Convention and Tourist Bureau.

Advance convention bookings for 1957 and 1958 indicate that Boston will play host to 350 different conventions in each of those years. At an average expenditure of $125* per delegate, the convention business will be in excess of 25 million dollars in those years.

Boston—city of yesterday and tomorrow has been the theme of the Convention of Tourist Bureau's visitor promotion program which has been centered around the outstanding motion picture film of the same name. During the first full year of use, this outstanding promotional media was seen by a nationwide audience of ten million people.

The publication and distribution of literature to convention delegates and in answer to mail requests is another important phase of the Bureau operation. More than 500 mail requests alone are received at the Bureau office weekly. Visitors to Boston place high value on such helpful material as guide maps, hotel guides, restaurant guides and shoppers guides. The Convention and Visitors Bureau distributes better than a quarter million pieces of literature each year to convention delegates and tourists.

Highly competitive bidding among forty of the country's major convention cities necessitates a strong and progressive Convention Bureau in order that Boston may secure its share of the convention business. Boston today ranks as one of the top ten convention cities in America. An aggressive program of convention solicitation and tourist promotion is the function of the Convention and Tourists Bureau in order to hold and improve this position.

As plans develop and a convention and exhibition hall becomes a reality in Boston entire new fields of convention possibilities will be opened. As more conventions and conventioneers converge on our city there will be demands for more hotel rooms, larger restaurants and additional transportation facilities. These front line businessmen will, in turn, hire additional help and buy new equipment to accommodate the increased demand, and the dollars received through their cash registers will reach the pockets of all people who work in the Greater Boston area.

In addition to the actual solicitation of conventions, one of the greatest aids to a large national convention is the Housing Service provided by the Boston Convention and Tourist Bureau. Many of the national organizations that meet in our city request assistance in arranging room reservations for their delegates. This task would be one of momentous proportions for a stranger to Boston or a person not familiar with our hotels and all their facilities. Past experience and complete familiarity with the hotels of the city enable this Bureau to handle the largest convention housing assignment with efficiency and speed. Through such services provided by the Bureau, the visitor to the "Hub" is made happy with that all-important first impression, and chances are that he will return again with additional tourist dollars to spend.

Boston is a city rich in attractions for the visitor; as the home of the Red Sox, the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Art Festival and innumerable historical shrines, we in Boston are in an enviable position to lure more and more visitors each year. An intelligent and aggressive program of convention solicitation and tourist promotion is the only way Boston will attract its share of this multi-billion dollar market.

A highly effective promotion program is presently carrying Boston's story to new and expanded markets tion is the function of the Convention and Tourist Bureau

*According to latest national surveys on convention delegate spending.

All Stations are Post Offices, except in name, and all are Money Order Offices

In addition to the above Stations, there are two hundred Stations for receiving registry matter and for domestic money-order business

World's "Circulation" Largest

Names and addresses of 39,977,700 passenger car owners and 8,427,900 truck owners . . . families and concerns who buy more than three-fourths of the nation's consumer goods . . . arranged by street and number . . . by city, county and state . . . by make of vehicle and year model . . . are available to the nation's largest advertisers. Yearly, R. L. Polk & Co. compiles for the automotive industry the official registration list of car and truck owners — the largest, most accurate mailing list in the world.

Through this great "circulation list," and through Polk's nation-wide direct mail advertising distribution facilities, the automotive industry and hundreds of other major concerns reach selected markets for their products . . . send advertising messages pin-pointed to the very prospect or customer they wish to reach . . . each advertising message imprinted with the local dealer's firm name and address, and sent to his own selected sales territory.

This world's greatest "circulation list" is a major sales tool used by industry to help move the goods and services that keep our economy rolling, helping to sell not only automobiles, but oranges, magazine subscriptions, vacation tours, and household appliances.

Serving the Automotive Industry and its Dealers since 1923

Features and Departments of a City Directory

Your new, improved City Directory is the most complete and comprehensive catalog ever published of the inhabitants, business concerns and institutions of your city. It is much more than just an alphabetical list of names and addresses.

Your City Directory Contains:

1 An Alphabetical list of names and addresses of every resident, business concern and institution, plus wife's name and if a widow the deceased husband's initial, and the occupations of all. Principal officers or owners and a description of businesses are included as well.

2 A Householders' Directory including a Street and Avenue Guide. This section lists every street and where intersecting streets appear. It lists numerically every location on each street, naming the householder or business at each number and whether the person is a homeowner or renter and if he has a telephone. Similar information is provided on office and public buildings and their occupants.

3 A Classified Business Directory—listing every business, classified as to type, and showing names and addresses. It also lists every profession, club, society and association, hospital and cemetery, labor organization, library, park and playground and school.

4 A "Yellow Section" or Buyers' Guide. where the advertiser may explain in greater detail the services or products he has to offer.

5 A Statistical and Historical Story of your city; plus miscellaneous other information.

By every standard—quality materials, quality manufacturing, fine printing, alert and dependable service—Bemis is your best source of bags. You benefit, too, by having a single source for your various requirements.

Also in the Bemis Family of Products—
Burlap Piece Goods • Tite-Fit Tubing • Paper and Textile Specialties • Waterproof Laminated Textile Bags • Canvas Products

To Protect You

Fake directory schemes are varied and numerous. There are also many business directories, which, while not legally fraudulent, are so incomplete in their listings or distribution as to be of little value. Honest and well-managed business directories are good advertising media and appropriations for this form of advertising should not be diverted to questionable schemes.

The Boston Better Business Bureau protects the public FIRST—and we do it without charging a penny. Business institutions become members of the Bureau and make this service possible because they know that the work we do increases confidence in the advertising and business of reputable concerns in Greater Boston.

It is our job to assist legitimate advertisers to keep advertising accurate and truthful. Inaccurate or misleading advertising, even when unintentional, injures public GOOD WILL.

We gather information about questionable investment propositions, so that you can come to an impartial agency and get accurate information to protect yourself, without charge. We advocate "Before You Invest—Investigate." We have nothing to sell and therefore do not recommend or deprecate any particular financial venture. We give the facts, but do not state opinions.

We investigate suit clubs, free lot schemes, picture enlarging schemes, fraudulent peddlers, fake auction sales, crooked financial projects, "going out of business" sales that are not bona fide, exaggerated value claims, etc.

All this is done to protect the public and legitimate business.

Help us to protect the public and to keep Boston a good place in which to trade.

There is no Charge to the Public for Bureau Services

Boston Better

52 Chauncy Street

And Your Savings

Over One Thousand Greater Boston Business Concerns maintain the Boston Bureau so that you may have at your disposal an impartial organization to which to go for information about any questionable financial or merchandise offer.

To strengthen public confidence in legitimate business, the Bureau also welcomes justified complaints regarding questionable or fraudulent advertising or financial promotions.

Practically every field of business is represented in the Bureau membership.

The Bureau is an independent, non-stock, non-profit membership corporation organized under the laws of Massachusetts.

Its objects are to—

Protect the Public from fraud and deceit.

Increase public confidence in advertising and selling.

Protect legitimate business from unfair competition.

Move constructively against nefarious practices in business.

"The DIRECTORY IS THE COMMON INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN BUYER and SELLER"

World's "Circulation" Largest

Names and addresses of 39,977,700 passenger car owners and 8,427,900 truck owners . . . families and concerns who buy more than three-fourths of the nation's consumer goods . . . arranged by street and number . . . by city, county and state . . . by make of vehicle and year model . . . are available to the nation's largest advertisers. Yearly, R. L. Polk & Co. compiles for the automotive industry the official registration list of car and truck owners — the largest, most accurate mailing list in the world.

Through this great "circulation list," and through Polk's nation-wide direct mail advertising distribution facilities, the automotive industry and hundreds of other major concerns reach selected markets for their products . . . send advertising messages pin-pointed to the very prospect or customer they wish to reach . . . each advertising message imprinted with the local dealer's firm name and address, and sent to his own selected sales territory.

This world's greatest "circulation list" is a major sales tool used by industry to help move the goods and services that keep our economy rolling, helping to sell not only automobiles, but oranges, magazine subscriptions, vacation tours, and household appliances.

Serving the Automotive Industry and its Dealers since 1923

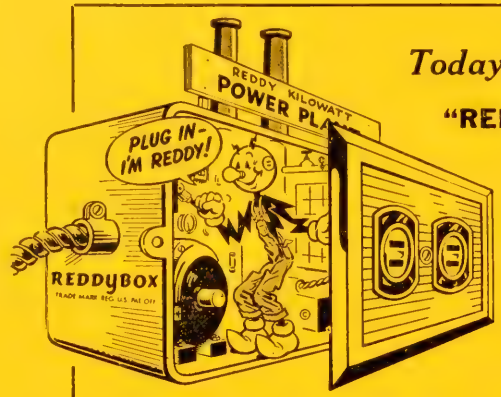
...About Your Car Owner Lists

Whatever information an auto owner puts on his license application appears on the new Polk official car owner registration list, now available to you. Every name on a Polk car owner list is "cleaned" ahead of time. Only names of persons to whom mail can be delivered are compiled for you. Polk Car Owner Lists are not "loaded" with extra names that would waste your time and money in sending out mail, or in making personal calls.



Success or failure of any direct mail advertising program depends on your keeping that list up to date.

Making Friends for Boston

Every time you patronize The Statler Hotel, or send someone to us, you assist in our primary job of making friends for Boston. The Statler is constantly broadening and improving its service—and every betterment of service makes friends for the city of Boston —just as truly as for the Hotel that acts for Boston . . If people from all over like Boston and come back, you and the Hotel make profitable and pleasant new contacts. We try our hardest to make our guests like Boston—and us.

ONE-HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY YEAR

Hotel with a history . . .

In a world of constantly shifting values Boston's famed Parker House, since its opening in 1856, stands out as a symbol of continuous conservative management, good food, genuine New England hospitality. Few are familiar with the fact that it was the first hostelry to operate without specified hours for meals and that the American plan originated here, but every school child knows that it is where the golden brown Parker House roll was originated.

Today, as a modern hotel offering every up-to-the-minute facility, it is not only the Boston headquarters of thousands of travelers from all over the world, but it continues to be the dining center of New England's important businessmen and statesmen. The present management is proud of the hotel's tradition — cherishes its world-wide reputation for famous food, service, fine accommodations and hospitality.

Out of Sight! • Out of Mind! • Out of Business!

The importance of keeping firm and product names in the public eye is recognized by all business men. It is astonishing to see how a firm or product, however meritorious, will slip into the limbo of the forgotten if not persistently advertised.

The City Directory is the natural medium for keeping a business or product name in the spotlight. Insist on being well represented in its pages.

An important part of the picture — SERVICE

The most impressive aspect of the new home office of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company — the efficiency and economy of operation which this modern building fosters — is necessarily an invisible part of the picture. Literally engineered to serve the 9 million Hancock policyholders, the building also serves as a symbol of their financial security, their economic independence, their self-reliance.

Out of Sight!
Out of Mind!
Out of Business!

The importance of keeping firm and product names in the public eye is recognized by all business men. It is astonishing to see how a firm or product, however meritorious, will slip into the limbo of the forgotten if not persistently advertised.

COLLATERAL LOAN CO.

Incorporated under Special Charter of Massachusetts 1859

This Company was established by Special Charter by the Legislature of Massachusetts and placed under the supervision of the Bank Commissioner, with the intention of making loans on diamonds, watches, jewelry, gold, silverware, etc., at lower rates of interest than made by pawnbrokers and other money lenders on collaterals of this description, and to afford absolute protection to the borrower.

An experience of over ninety years has confirmed the wisdom of the organization, and the company continues its usefulness to borrowers on this kind of personal property.

IN THE CEMETERY

—means TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBER

—means HOME OWNER

THE HOME-OWNER SYMBOL, in the Householders' Guide of the New City Directory, designates Home-owners on every Street and Avenue in the city. As a means of Checking Credits, conducting Direct Mail Campaigns, Sales Planning, Prospect Lists, etc., it is of invaluable assistance.

THE BELL SYMBOL designates Telephone Subscribers and appears in the Householders' Guide following street numbers.

NEW FEATURES and DEPARTMENTS are constantly being adopted in our efforts to improve and add to the recognized value of the City Directory service demanded by the public.

The Polk Market
picks new-car buyers out of the crowd

To meet today's fierce competition, automobile advertisers and their agencies recognize that mass advertising is not enough. Everybody is not a prime prospect for a new car, just as everybody is not a prime prospect for a truck, a tractor or a cabin cruiser.

Certainly, mass advertising is essential to create a receptive climate for new automobiles. But the complete automobile advertising program must cultivate, personally and intensively, those individuals who can buy . . . and who do buy regularly!

The Polk Market is the one medium that picks these regular new-car buyers out of the crowd and identifies them by name and address.

Then the automobile advertiser and his agency can direct personal, forceful mail advertisements to these identified new-car buyers, using The Polk Market exactly as they use other printed media.

Automobile advertisers and their agencies who have used The Polk Market have been impressed by its ability to move people into action, to identify dealerships and to buttress an entire advertising program.

Continuing research and experience prove that advertisements mailed to potential buyers gain greater attention . . . win far higher readership than any other form of printed advertising . . . tell a much more complete sales story . . . and pay off in measurable sales results — all at a surprisingly low cost per reader-prospect!

R. L. Polk & Co. functions in mail advertising exactly as the publisher functions in other printed media. Standard gross rates and specifications have been established by R. L. Polk & Co. when acting as the complete publisher for specific types of mail advertising campaigns. These rates apply equally to advertisers and agencies and are fully commissionable to the agency.

We will be happy to show you how The Polk Market can help you make all your advertising dollars work more effectively. Let us hear from you.

R. L. POLK & CO.

World's "Largest Circulation"

Names and addresses of 39,977,700 passenger car owners and 8,427,900 truck owners . . . families and concerns who buy more than three-fourths of the nation's consumer goods . . . arranged by street and number . . . by city, county and state . . . by make of vehicle and year model . . . are available to the nation's largest advertisers. Yearly, R. L. Polk & Co. compiles for the automotive industry the official registration list of car and truck owners — the largest, most accurate mailing list in the world.

Through this great "circulation list," and through Polk's nation-wide direct mail advertising distribution facilities, the automotive industry and hundreds of other major concerns reach selected markets for their products . . . send advertising messages pin-pointed to the very prospect or customer they wish to reach . . . each advertising message imprinted with the local dealer's firm name and address, and sent to his own selected sales territory.

This world's greatest "circulation list" is a major sales tool used by industry to help move the goods and services that keep our economy rolling, helping to sell not only automobiles, but oranges, magazine subscriptions, vacation tours, and household appliances.

Serving the Automotive Industry and its Dealers since 1923
